In the death of Mr. Fox this community loses a man who has been for a long period of years prominent in business circles. As a business man he has been prominently identified Mabel Mason, daughter of the keeper of the with movements to advance the best interests signed and made arrangements to go into business. In the spring of 1861 he was appointed cashier of the Contract price.

Secretary Foster has approved of the reduction in the force in the office of the collector of customs at New York, and Collector Exhardt was instructed to carry out the details. The amount in the annual reduction of expenses is $86,450. The services of seventy-five persons in various grades are disparated and made arrangements to go into business. In the spring of 1861 he was appointed cashier of the Washington office of the American Telegraph Company, which position be held during the war and until the absorption of the American Telegraph Company by the Western Union. While Mr. Fox has been actively engaged in business for more than twenty-five years past he did not allow his interest in educational matters to wane. GOLD AND SILVER. Some Interesting Information as to th Output in a Census Office Bulletin. The superintendent of the census has sent to the government printing office the material for eleventh census. The most important portions of this matter have already been published with the exception of the part relating to the production of gold and silver in the United production of gold and silver in the United States during the calendar year 1889. A bulletin on this subject has been issued from the census office. The inquiry into this important field has been made by Special Agent Richard P. Rothwell, editor of the Engineering and Vision Journal.

bullion during the year 1889 was: Metal. Ounces. U.S. Coining Value
Gold. 1,590,869 $32,886,744
Silver. 51,354,851 66,396,988

The greatest attention has been devoted by the census office to tracing to its source the output of the metals, so that the importance, not only of each state, but of each producing county of a state, may be recognized.

The number of gold and silver mining "claims" or "locations," commonly called "mine," in the United States is practically beyond computation. The names of nearly one hundred thousand of such claims or mines were received by the census office, but upon limiting the investigation to: 1, producing mines; 2, mines working, but not producing; 3, mines temporarily stopped, but which had produced or upon which the work done had established their value and which could be properly be classed as mines, the list declined to perhaps ten thousand, and upon tabulating only such mines as made returns of production or labor statistics the list was reduced to 6,004, which is still a very large number, compared with the other mineral producing mines in the United States.

JOHNSTOWN'S FLOOD, RECALLED.

Privision, Pa., July 18.—The counsel for Mrs. Nancy W. Little has filed a statement in her suit against the South Fork Fishing and Hunting Club of Pittsburg. Mrs. Little, in behalf of herself and eight children, asks for $50,000 damages for the death of her husband, John A. Little, who was lost in the Johnstown flood. Mr. Little was a traveling salesman and at the time of the disaster was a guest at the Halbert House, Johnstown. The South Fork Club, it is charged, is responsible for the flood by reason of the negligent and unskillful manner in which the dam at South Fork was constructed. The sluice was not sufficient to allow the water to flow through, and the dam was not capable of holding back the great body of water accumulated above it.
